

I am horrified that Sinclair Broadcast Group is forcing 62 of it's stations in swing states to show an anti-John Kerry "documentary". It is an obvious political move on their behalf and a glaring example of how big media stand for their own gain and are not serving the communities they claim to be informing. If they show this movie, they need to also show "Farenheit 9/11" to equal the slandering playing field. At least the Michael Moore film is based on fact.

Thank you.
